Minority Rule

How can one person have the power to change everything?

Our country was built on freedom. It was also built on religion. One person can change all that this country was founded on...if we allow it.

Marissa has suffered the loss of her husband in 9/11 and is now trying to raise two young, rambunctious daughters on her own. Working as an administrative assistant for the middle school in her area, Marissa has had to endure the 'rights' of one Ms. Chaffin as she single handedly makes sure their school is free of all religion. Marissa barely tolerates this intrusion until Ms. Chaffin sets her sights on Marissa's necklace: the cross pendant that her husband gave her right before his death.

Follow Marissa's struggle as she fights for her own rights, as well as all Christians, and tries to bring meaning and love back into her life.
